Thank you! It wouldn't have been the same without you!

- To everyone who came out and braved the soft grey skies and cooler temps to enjoy the Fair and each other.
- To the parents, staff and teachers who volunteered their time to make the fair amazing! Your help with activities, set up, clean up and the picnic lunch is critical!
- To Stribling Orchard for the delicious apples and pumpkins.
- Congratulations to Baking Contest Winner: Carly Goins for her Oatmeal Crisps.
- Congratulations to Vivian Davis who was awarded the Stephanie VanSant trophy for showing love and care of animals.
- To the grounds team for all of your help maintaining the cross country course!

Hill School will be offering 6th-8th graders the opportunity take the Medusa Mythology Exam - Wednesday, December 7 at 4pm. Please sign up with Mrs. Lovelette by Friday, October 14th, if you love mythology! This year's theme is the Rise and Fall of the Titans. Top scorers can earn nationally recognized awards!

This year's Hill School culture study will focus on the Democratic Republic of the Congo. Culture study will be held March 8-10, 2017. This vast, resource-rich central African country has given the world visually striking masks and sculpture, delicious food, precious gems, rare minerals used in technological devices including cell phones, and irresistible dance music. It is also the home of several critically endangered species of great ape.

A former Belgian colony, the DRC has suffered decades of political instability continuing to the present moment. The goal of the 2017 culture study will be to share joyous aspects of the DRC's cultures with our younger students, providing them with beginning exposure to a previously unknown part of the world. Limited information about the DRC's political history can be shared at an age-appropriate level with our oldest students. Because current news stories may contain information about violent events, we strongly recommend that students not research the DRC on their own. As with all Hill School culture studies, we invite Hill School community members to share with us any resources relating to the DRC that they may have.

Questions or resources to share? Please contact Linda Conti or Lucy Turner.

MISSION

The National Center for Missing & Exploited Children's mission is to help families, law enforcement and communities find missing children, reduce child sexual exploitation and prevent future victimization. As the nonprofit leading the fight to keep children safer from these crimes, NCMEC is dedicated to the victims and their families. Co-founded in 1984 by missing child advocates John and Revé Walsh after their son Adam's abduction and murder, NCMEC's role has grown to respond to evolving threats against our nation's children.

CHALLENGE

While NCMEC and the families and law enforcement it supports have seen amazing progress in child safety over the years, there is still more work to do. With more than 460,000 reports of missing children in the United States in a single year and a rise in cases of child sexual exploitation, the need for NCMEC's services continues to grow.

SOLUTION

NCMEC offers extensive resources in cases of missing and exploited children that include emotional and reunification assistance for families, the distribution of billions of missing child posters and the work of trained analysts and forensic artists. Drawing on decades of experience to help stop these crimes before they happen and to help people be prepared when they do, NCMEC also provides free education for law enforcement, families and children.

NCMEC is a 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt charity and is a publicly supported organization as defined in sections 509 (a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the Internal Revenue Service Code. Federal ID #52-1328557. All contributions are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.
