2. THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH

Maja Kuehn, Sarah Kuehn's grandmother, was inspired to do a series of circus paintings as the circus has roots in her town of North Salem, NY. In the early months of 1830, three men from her town, John June, Lewis Titus and Caleb Angevine, formed the first circus syndicate in America. Their partnership from 1830-1842 changed over time, but they and their successors continued to invest in and manage circus shows for many years. In those early days, several large homes in town housed the animals over the winter months. Elephants in large formal halls and monkeys in basements! Over the years, the principals and financiers changed and eventually, two men named Barnum and Bailey emerged.

Maja Kuehn

3. TRAPEZE ARTISTS

98. A LAMB'S WOOL BLANKET

Martin's Farms VA is offering a 100% Lamb's Wool Blanket, Queen size, made from the wool from their own lambs, raised in The Plains, Virginia. They drive the raw wool to a woolen mill in Canada, where they wash, spin, and dye the yarn to make the blankets. The blankets are then woven and hand hemmed in a family owned woolen mill that started in 1870 as a Grist Mill and Lumber Yard that converted raw fleece to batts. The mill eventually evolved into an all wool mill in 1932, when it produced its first blankets. The mill continues to be run by the same family today. Martin's Farms has a limited quantity of blankets available each year; they have a total of 138 blankets in two sizes: Full/Queen 76" x 140" and Lap, 48" x 60".

102. VINTAGE MIDDLEBURG LICENSE PLATE

Remember Middleburg in 1981? Tom Northrup was the new Headmaster. Susan McCaskey, Brian Wilson and Philip Dudley were in 3rd Grade with Alworthy Caulk. Mrs. Edward, Wesley and David were greeting us each day at the B&A, putting our coke and candy on our parent's charge account. The Black Walnut was thriving as was Billy Leaches' Hardware, The Reliable Store was still reliable and a caution light was all we had. There was one other fact about Middleburg life -- every car had 2 license plates -- one from VDOT and one from the Town. Originally started in the 1930's as a way to tell who had paid their car taxes, Middleburg Town License Plates became a part of our community, and signified who was from Town and who was "just visitin". Although retired since the mid-1990's, 20 years later you can still see them proudly displayed on many cars in and around Middleburg -- with the owner moving their cherished old tag to each new car. Tonight only, bid on a rare piece of Middleburg history, an un-issued, official Middleburg license tag, vintage 1981, still in its paper sleeve! Recently found in a drawer and donated by the Town of Middleburg, be the only person in Town with a brand new tag. Your ride will be the envy of everyone. And unlike before, you don't even have to actually live in Town!

331. THEY SHALL NOT GROW OLD

Peter Jackson's World War I documentary They Shall Not Grow Old astounded audiences and amazed reviewers with its extraordinary enhanced footage of original films and audio interviews with soldiers. The film, with an unheard of 99% rating on Rotten Tomatoes, was screened in an unconventional schedule in the U.S., so you may not have had a chance to see it. Fear not -- Hill School to the rescue! The lucky winner of this auction item will invite 25 of his or her closest friends to a private screening at Hill's Performing Arts Center, to be previewed with refreshments, drinks, and an introduction by Don Woodruff and Hunt Lyman. Sit back and prepare to be amazed! To be scheduled on a mutually agreeable date.

Hunt Lyman and Don Woodruff

332. HALLOWEEN

Ready for a chilly October? This pre-Halloween event for up to 10 adults will set spines tingling! The prelude to Halloween will begin at the Haunted Houses of Lyman and Lord, where participants will gather for snacks and adult libations, followed by a private tour of the increasingly indefensible Halloween decorations created by Hunt Lyman and Krister Killinger, with notes and secrets revealed by these noted designers of childhood trauma. Heather Kyle of Middleburg Ghost Tours will then lead the party through town and regale all with terrifying true tales of the town's horrifying history. The evening will conclude with dessert and calming drinks at a local tavern to be chosen by the purchaser. Having trouble staying awake? No one on the tour will sleep for weeks afterwards! Available in the week leading up to Halloween.

369. A CIVIL WAR PEPPERBOX PISTOL

Tonight, we have a very special Civil War Era Pocket Revolving Percussion Pepperbox Pistol with an Early Integral Shield. This piece is 100% original, with walnut grips, and is a scarce and desirable Gold Rush and Civil War era pistol. The Pepperbox was considered a "point and shoot" or "belly gun". They came in four sizes (this one is a medium) with .32 caliber bores. Due to the demand of handguns during the Civil War, many soldiers on both sides relied on a back-up or two besides those issued to them. The end of the War saw the end of the Pepperbox as cartridge guns came into their own. Mark Twain is quoted as saying that being shot at by a Pepperbox, the safest place to be was behind it. But often, one did survive being shot by one. Jeb Stuart was shot in the back by a Pepperbox, but was back up and riding one week later.

390. A CIVIL WAR 1865 CAVALRY SABER & SCABBARD

Tonight we have an Amer Manufacturing Co. US Model 1860, dated 1865 Cavalry Saber & Scabbard. This piece is the original uncleaned and unsharpened 35" blade with address on one ricasso and "U.S./I.F./1865" on reverse. It has a nice edge with no dings or chinks and old patina. It includes the original buff washer. The original brass basket hilt with old mustard patina is bent in a few places from period of use, and the original leather covered grip is flaking from use, but the original steel scabbard with patina never cleaned has no dents or bends. This is an excellent addition to a Civil War collection. The 1860 Cavalry Sabers were used by the U.S. Cavalry from the American Civil War until the end of the Indian Wars. The M1860 saber received its name to distinguish it from the larger and heavier Model 1840 Heavy Cavalry Saber it replaced. Like its predecessor it had a brass guard, leather-wrapped grip and steel scabbard, but it was smaller and easier to handle. By the end of the Civil War, over 300,000 1860 sabers had been produced. These sabers were used extensively by both the North and the South during the War.

401. GOLF FOR THREE AT RTJ GOLF CLUB

Three lucky golfers will join host and member, Paul Hesse, for a memorable day of golf and good times at the nationally-acclaimed Robert Trent Jones Golf Club in Gainesville, Virginia. With no tennis courts, swimming pool, or racquet ball, RTJ is dedicated exclusively to the game of golf. The beautifully manicured course has been home to four PGA Presidents Cups as well as several of Tiger Woods hosted tournaments. Depending on the tee time you select, your day will begin with breakfast or lunch at the clubhouse, followed by 18 holes of golf, with caddies, on the spectacular RTJ course that borders the shores of Lake Manassas. After "bringing the course to its knees," you and your host will conclude the festivities with drinks back at the clubhouse or at RTJ's lakeside pavilion on the course. The above day of golf is to be scheduled on a mutually convenient day in the summer or fall of 2019.

410. A CULINARY BOOT CAMP

Culinary "Boot Camp" is a Class, not Catering! You are bidding on three (3) classes of three (3) hours each. You may include up to six (6) friends or family members at each class. The class is conducted in your home or specified location and you will provide all the necessary kitchen equipment and purchase the ingredients for the class with an included Wegman's gift card valued at $350. This is perfect for anyone who has fantasized about attending culinary school or learning to cook a particular type of cuisine or for any "weekend" chef who wants a better understanding of the fundamentals of fine cooking! The course instruction is based on the Culinary Institute of America's syllabus for beginner to intermediate students, and includes training in preparing stocks and sauces, dry heat cooking methods and moist heat cooking methods. The winning bidders will choose their own syllabus for each session based on a provided list. The final session is the "bidder's choice" offering instruction in a particular area of cuisine or cooking style. This could be classic Italian, French, Vegan, or it could be "Cooking with the Kids!" This is a fantastic item! Three, three hour cooking classes for you and your friends and family! What fun is that? Your instructor, Brian L. Lichorowich, is owner of the newly opened "Johnny Monarch's" in Marshall's, attended the Culinary Institute of America, received professional instruction in Paris, France, and has a degree in Molecular Gastronomy. He is also a published food writer, 2 time people's choice winner of the Virginia CASI sponsored Chili Cook-Offs, and guest speaker in national and local media. Please see his full bio on display this evening.

411. FOUR FOR TODAY

From Hill parent Eric Stromquist's wine cellar, we have four wines that he describes as "at their peak, and ready to be enjoyed now!" All highly rated by Wine Spectator, these include a 1996 Chateau Lafite Rothschild (96 Rating), a 1995 Chateau Mouton Rothschild (94 Rating), a 1995 Chateau Latour (94 Rating) and a 1988 Chateau Haut Brion (96 Rating). All have been stored under identical good conditions and should be ready to drink. A perfect gift for the wine connoisseur, or simply for those who want to enjoy some very nice wines now!

Eric and Jackie Stromquist

412. TWO FOR THE FUTURE

Again from Eric Stromquist's wine cellar, we have two bottles of wine that he describes as "wines to be saved for the future." These wines should be stored and saved for a later date. Both are highly rated by Wine Spectator and include a 2000 Chateau Lafite Rothschild (98 Rating) and a 2005 Chateau Haut Brion (100 Rating). These wines are perfect for the wine connoisseur's cellar.

422. A PRIVATE DINNER FOR 8 AT HISTORIC CATESBY FARM

You and your guests are invited to a one-of-a-kind farm-to-table masterpiece under the stars at historic Catesby Farm Estate in Middleburg, Virginia. Be enchanted by Catesby's miles of dry stone walls and 1930's Greek revival home on 240 acres. Renowned Chef Dana Polk will greet you with a hand-crafted cocktail before your tour of the historic property, first established in 1817 and featuring multiple cottages, gardens, greenhouse, pond, private vineyards, and a former thoroughbred Belmont design barn and race track. Play a little tennis or croquet over drinks? Or settle down for the main event - a three course, local feast, with wine, in one of the most picturesque settings in the Virginia Piedmont. This truly inspiring night could linger into the wee hours. So indulge your friends, your farm-escape dreams, and have an unforgettable night of laughter and fun. To be scheduled on a mutually agreeable date.

423. A LOU SHIELDS ORIGINAL PAINTING

Tonight we have an original art piece from former parent and well known artist, Louis Shields. Louis says "my art has grown from a desire to depict elements precisely to conceptual pieces and indirect expressionism. Although abstract, my paintings do reference the architectural principals of antiquity. They exude balance and incorporate subtle elements of color, line and texture creating the illusion of multiple dimensions." Lou's paintings are statement pieces. A fabulous piece to add to your art collection.

Louis Shields

424. 1964 CHATEAU LAFITE ROTHSCHILD

Always considered one of the top wines in the world, we have three bottles of 1964 Chateau Lafite Rothschild. This is a classic first growth wine that has been stored under meticulous conditions in a local Middleburg area wine cellar since original delivery from Sherry Lehman in New York. At wine auctions, this wine would cost approximately 1k per bottle. If you were bold enough to order it in a restaurant, they would charge you a fortune. Buy it tonight to enjoy when little Billy or Suzie graduates from Hill!

The dimensions can vary, but the table size is not to exceed 86” L and 30.5” H. Tonight, we have on display one of Paul’s tables so you can see his wonderful craftsmanship. Martin’s Farms VA of The Plains is pleased to provide a custom meat box for the first dinner celebrating your new custom table! Martin’s Farms will allow you to select your choice of either Beef or Lamb, serving up to 8 people. You can select from their Dry Aged Beef Ribeye Steaks, NY Strip Steaks, Tenderloin, or local Lamb Chops, leg of Lamb, or any combination of the above! They need at least two weeks’ notice prior to pickup of your selected meats. In addition, A Farm Less Ordinary is providing some wonderful baskets. A Farm Less Ordinary is a community that provides employment opportunities for adults with developmental disabilities. They grow all the vegetables at the farm and produce wonderful products, including the finished products in your baskets: pickles, jams, pesto and marinara sauces. In addition, they have produced an assortment of goats milk infused handcrafted soaps in beautiful floral and decorative patterns. But that’s not all! From Susan McCaskey’s gardens here at Hill, we have fresh vegetables, homemade bread from the kitchen of Lucy Turner, fresh eggs from Wendy Heuer’s chickens and a charming Rustic Cutting Board.

YOUR FARM-TO-TABLE PACKAGE INCLUDES:

- A Custom Built Dining Table
- A Martin’s Farms VA Meat Box for 8
- Two Baskets from A Farm Less Ordinary
- Vegetables from Susan McCaskey’s Gardens

507. WILD SUPREME

Tonight we are honored to offer a spectacular photograph from award winning photographer Beverly Joubert. An icon in the field of wildlife photography, Beverly Joubert has won numerous awards, including eight Emmys and a Peabody. Her works are displayed in National Geographic Fine Art Galleries, and she is a regular contributor to National Geographic Magazine where she is an Explorer-in-Residence. National Geographic Fine Art Galleries present fine art photography through exclusive limited editions embodying the rich heritage of National Geographic and National Geographic Magazine. Wild Supreme, was photographed in Botswana in 2008 in the Okavango Delta, a vast waterway with islands in between. Here is an excerpt from her description of her photograph: “There are few places left in the world where lions like this male reign supreme. The male lion in this photograph swam onto the island and challenged the two old male lions-he was around 6 and in his prime. We named him ‘Wild Supreme’ as he appeared so majestic and confident, the ultimate lion in his prime.” Beverly Joubert’s photographs and films are world famous. She says her ultimate inspiration is about trying to make a difference. Her work is about getting the observer to care deeply about the species she is portraying and their future, particularly the big cats. In her 50+ year lifetime, the world has lost 95% of the big cats: lions, leopards, cheetahs, and tigers. She hopes her images move a viewer so much that they will want to do something about the ever-increasing threat to these wild animals. Tonight, we are most fortunate to have one of her outstanding, numbered and signed limited edition photographs up for bid.

508. THE AMERICAN SPIRIT

Learn how the history and development of bourbon whiskey are intertwined with the history and development of the United States of America. Want to know what the role of American whiskey was in western expansion, the Revolutionary War debt, the Civil War, or a 1964 Act of Congress? How some distilleries were able to continue making, bottling, and selling bourbon during Prohibition? Learn this and more! Also sample a variety of world class bourbons. Head of School Treavor Lord will host an evening featuring this uniquely American spirit--Bourbon--in his house in Middleburg for up to eight guests. The evening will include a series of short presentations by Treavor, interspaced with Bourbon tastings, ratings, and comparisons; lots of friendly banter; and gourmet food prepared by NECI trained Chef Brendan Lovelette and his wife Christie. Each bourbon will be perfectly paired with a delicious canape, and the tasting session will be followed by a five course plated dinner. Brendan and Christie are renowned for their food, service, and enthusiasm for all matters gastronomic. Who knew what a bourbon fanatic Treavor is or what a world class meal our very own Latin teacher and her husband are capable of preparing? This will be an enjoyable and informative night for bourbon connoisseurs as well as curious neophytes. No experience required. Remember what Mark Twain said: "Too much of anything is bad, but too much good whiskey is barely enough."

YOUR BOURBON TASTING EVENING INCLUDES:

- Bourbon Tasting for up to 8 Guests
- Gourmet 5 Course Dinner
- Presentations, Friendly Banter and More!
- Driver Available
- Decanter and Crystal Glasses For Successful Bidder to Take Home the Night of the Auction
- Mutually agreeable date with at least one month's advance notice

511. HOSTAGES TO HEROES: AN IRAN HOSTAGE CRISIS DINNER AND DISCUSSION EVENING

On November 4, 1979, Iranian terrorists stunned the World when they stormed the American Embassy in Tehran, taking all of its diplomatic staff hostage. The terrorists demanded the return of the former Shah of Iran or they would execute the American hostages. Mike Howland will tell his story as one of the 52 Americans held hostage for 444 days. His story is based around a secret journal he smuggled out of Tehran. This nine-hundred-page journal is the most detailed account kept by any hostage. It is a day by day story of emotion, heartbreak, laughter and human endurance. It is also a story of physical resistance, covert acts and espionage. Mike will describe how teaching himself to do watercolor painting sustained and enriched him through the long ordeal. This is the true story torn from one of the most dramatic events in modern American history when one of the most powerful nations in the world, angry and frustrated, stood powerless at the feet of a horde of ragtag radical Iranian terrorists. Please join Mike for an evening of discussion on the Tehran Hostage Crisis and Iran hosted by Angela and Krister Killinger at their home in Middleburg. This evening, for up to 20 people, will include a sit-down dinner, and a presentation in their home theater where you will not only hear Mike's story, but see his slides, view journals and original art, as well as pictures taken during the crisis. This very special evening is available on a mutually agreeable date.

YOUR EVENING FOR UP TO 20 GUESTS INCLUDES:

- Sit-Down Dinner for 20
- Mike Howland Presentation

515. ONE WEEK ON BALD HEAD ISLAND

New to the Auction this year, we have a fabulous oceanfront home on Bald Head Island in North Carolina. “Carolina Dreamin’” sleeps 10 and is just perfect for your family’s next vacation. The southernmost of North Carolina’s cape islands, Bald Head Island is located at the confluence of the Cape Fear River and the Atlantic Ocean. A pleasant 20-minute passenger ferry ride transports you from the ferry terminal at Deep Point Marina in historic Southport, N.C. to the harbor at Bald Head Island. Tram service will take you to your accommodations. Your oceanfront home has a spectacular view through a wall of windows, and a private walkway is just steps from the door, leading to an expansive stretch of beach. You have three bedrooms, each with its own full bath, and the master bath has a Jacuzzi tub. The master features a King size bed, the second and third bedrooms have Queen beds. Upstairs in the loft there is a set of bunk beds and a pull out queen sofa, TV and game room. This home is perfect for two families and sleeps 10 in total! The living room features a wall of sliding glass doors that open to a huge screened porch where you can watch your family on the beach, catch the sunsets, or simply enjoy the ships passing in front of the house. Your home has two golf carts, a six passenger and a four passenger, and plenty of bicycles, boogie boards, beach chairs and beach toys. Explore Bald Head, originally called Smith Island, and climb to the top of Old Baldy, North Carolina’s oldest standing lighthouse. Check out the Smith Island Museum of History to learn about the island’s seafaring history. There are many restaurants, a golf course, and the clubs have tennis courts and pools and can be joined for a fee. This fabulous home is available for one week, Sunday to Sunday, after Labor Day 2019 or the summer of 2020. Please make your reservation immediately, as this property books quickly.
