Vicky Moon, the proud mom of Hill School alum Taylor Shapiro, has a new book out—her tenth. It's called "Sylvia Rideoutt Bishop Had a Way With Horses," and chronicles the life the nation's first African American female trainer of Thoroughbred racehorses working out of her home town track in Charles Town, West Virginia. The book is available at Second Chapter Books in Middleburg and can also be ordered at vickymoon.com.

Is better health at the top of your list for 2021?

Thinking of getting back on track after quarantine and the holidays? What health accomplishments do you want to be celebrating a year from now? Whether you're ready to make an all-in splash, or would prefer to just dip your toe in the water, I am here to support you in those goals!

I'm Cristin Wipfle (Hill '94, and mom of Liam '26, and Olivia '31), Registered Dietitian and holistic health coach. I founded p.e.a.c.h out of my passion to inspire and empower others to achieve greater health and happiness through small but powerful lifestyle shifts. I apply an integrative and holistic approach that is specific to your needs, and focused on fueling and nourishing your body and mind with real food and a strengthened mindset.

positive, energetic, active, content, healthy
